The publisher regrets that Figure 5 is incorrectly delivered in html. The authors would also like to update the representative staining image of liver sections from the aADM2-tg group, captured at the nearest time point of sampling, in accordance with the other images presented in Fig. 5 within both the HTML and PDF files. The change won't affect the conclusions. The correct Figure 5 is listed below.

The publisher and the authors would like to apologize for any inconvenience caused.
